Head Master's Report

To the Superintendent and Board of Education the Headmaster of the Hinsdale High School submits the following report:

Only one significant change in the High School has been made since Mr. Elliott's report last. The Agricultural Course has been eliminated and the General Course substituted for it. The scope of this course may be seen in the program appearing at the end of this report. In order to teach the new course more efficiently the Board of Education hired a third assistant teacher. This investment will pay good educational dividends.

The school needs two things to make it a real success,—students and equipment.

A school must have students. At present the enrollment of the school is forty-four, of which number only eleven are boys. The supply of students can hardly be increased, but every effort should be made to keep every boy and girl in school until graduation.

If you are to keep your young people here you must give them what they need for an education,—equipment.

Briefly, you should do the following:—(1) provide ample laboratory room, (2) provide sufficient apparatus for the study of Physics and Chemistry, (3) provide a good school library of reference books in addition to the ordinary text books, (4) install modern toilet facilities, (5) find some way to give the students real and safe gymnasium privileges, and (6) unify the school by bringing all the departments under one roof. At present the high school is in four separate buildings. The manual training department is scattered from cellar to garret in a ramshackle establishment which has outlived its usefulness. The headmaster does not offer a solution; he merely states the problem.

The headmaster realizes that all of these things can not be done in one year. It will take time, but it will be time well spent.

Respectfully submitted,

MARTIN G. SANBORN.

Superintendent's Report

To the Board of Education and Citizens of Hinsdale,
N. H.:

I have the honor to submit my first annual report and the ninth in this series of reports.

The fact that Hinsdale schools have been under supervision for a long period of years is clearly seen by their excellence.

At a meeting held in Keene, July 20, 1918, the new supervisory district of Hinsdale, Chesterfield and Frankestown was formed, and a superintendent elected. Mrs. Elizabeth Fisher is president of this district.

The school year, which began so pleasantly, Sept. 4, was saddened by the death of Dr. W. E. Fay, who served on the Board of Education for twenty-eight years.

The work has been greatly interrupted by the influenza but by means of Saturday sessions some of the time is being made up. This seems hardship at this time, but it is preferable to carrying the spring term into July.

The High School opened with forty-three pupils and the following corps of teachers:

Prin. Martin G. Sanborn,

Assistants:

Miss Elizabeth Halloran,

Miss Grace L. Russell.

Miss Elizabeth M. Donahue.

Owing to a serious nervous breakdown, Miss Donahue resigned at the end of the fall term, and we were fortunate to secure the services of Mrs. Eliza Carleton.

The Agricultural Course was dropped and a General course substituted. The difficulty in maintaining either of these courses is the lack of students.

We can call attention to no radical changes in the work of the grades, but to progress along lines already marked out.

Miss Stearns and Miss Conley continue departmental work and the course in General Science has been improved by introducing Hodgson's, "Elementary Science." Miss Halloran has beginner's French in the eighth grade three days a week using "Mes Premiers Pas en Francais," as a text. These changes constitute Junior High School work.

Only one change of teachers has occurred in the grades, Miss Maud A. Dickerman taking the place of Miss Mabelle Lang.

We were fortunate to secure normal school graduates for the vacancies in the rural schools; Miss Imogene Lawrence at the Monument school and Miss Gertrude Matthews in the Plains district.

Music and drawing are taught this year by Miss Marion W. Shattuck and her report will outline the work.

The new educational bill before the legislature would make the amount to be raised by the town of Hinsdale nearly $12,000. The changes would be the lengthening of the school year to thirty six weeks, in the district schools and in grades I-IV inclusive. This will be done, whether the bill passes or not.

The plan for Americanization will affect every person between the ages of 16 and 21 years of age, who cannot read and speak English, understandingly. This is a measure growing out of conditions discovered or emphasized by our late mobilization. English is to be made the language of the United States and this law will make it the language of New Hampshire.

The Board of Education and superintendent are ready to establish evening schools and call for the support of the citizens of the town and the cooperation of the non-English speaking people.

I wish to express my appreciation to the Board of Education, the teachers, and the citizens, for their hearty support of every good measure for the betterment of the schools.

Respectfully submitted,

GEORGE O. SMITH.

Superintendent.

PRACTICAL ARTS

In the High School:—The general impression seems to be that the Domestic Arts Course in the high school is wholly a “cooking and sewing” course. It is not strange that such a view is taken, for when this course was first introduced in the curricula of the schools, its purpose was to teach cooking and sewing only. Later it seemed necessary to broaden the course, for if the aim was to be the making of efficient homekeepers, many other problems were involved. Consequently, a Domestic Arts Course was formulated, with cooking and sewing coming the first year only. The work of the remaining three years gives the scientific and theoretical back ground to round out the practical knowledge already gained.

Certain phases of the work may be of special interest. The Freshman and Sophomore sewing class has completed six layettes, of twenty-four pieces each, for the Junior Red Cross. The cooking class has served school lunches every Saturday that school has been in session. The work of the Juniors in the Home Nursing Course is very practical. The class has used a bed and covers, with a pupil as patient, in studying the care and movement of patients in bed; splints have been made and applied to fractured limbs, and tourniquets have been tied to stop the flow of blood from arteries. Under the heading, Invalid Cookery, refreshing drinks, dainty jellies, and convalescent dishes have been prepared. Whenever possible these foods are utilized again: they are sent to invalids in the town. In the Senior year, to make the study of Home Management practical, each student has been given an imaginary family of four, and a fixed salary, with which to feed, clothe, and shelter that family. The opportunity is thus given for solving many practical problems, which would never have been discovered, had the subject been studied by the textbook method.

In the grades :—The cooking class make simple practical dishes. If the pupils wish to buy what they have made, they do so at cost. Inexpensive dinners, comparable to those of the average family, are served. In Manual Training boys are allowed, with little guidance and few suggestions, the selection of their own projects. In June there will be a sale, at auction of all projects made in this Course which are not bought by the pupils.

This report gives only the merest glimpse of the work being done in these courses. Visitors are welcome, even requested to come and see for themselves the work that is being accomplished.

Respectfully submitted,

MISS GRACE RUSSELL.

Mr. George O. Smith:

Dear Sir:—It gives me great pleasure to submit my first report as supervisor of music in the Hinsdale Schools.

My aim is to teach the boys and girls to sing and enjoy singing, also to have an appreciation of good music by knowing it thoroughly. To gain this end the child should be able to read music readily, know the technique of music and something of the composers.

Thus far I have aimed to teach, time, keys, terms of tempo and expression, some writing and most important of all, songs.

The first year the child is tested for his ability to hear and sing. Then if necessary he is given individual attention. In that grade we take up the scale as a rote song, the reading and memorizing of the first five tones, and about 25 rote songs. Thru rote songs he learns his first lesson in interpretation and all songs is, construction work, poster work, object drawing, printing and design. In the spring we will take up nature work and its use in design. Also in High School I plan to start a course that will give the pupils an appreciation of good pictures and a knowledge of some of the prominent artists.

Again I thank the teachers for their help and co-operation.

Respectfully submitted,

MARION SHATTUCK,

Drawing Supervisor.

Mr. George O. Smith:

Dear Sir:—I submit the following report for the supervision of drawing in the Hinsdale schools.

In the fall we accomplished some work in nature. In the lower grades we have had a good deal of free hand cutting and some crayon and construction work. In the upper grades a little free hand cutting, object work, printing of mottos and designs for covers.

In the lower grades we drill on the mere technical representation of processes in order to cultivate in pupils an increasing degree of skill in coordinating movements by hand, eye and brain.

In the upper grade we expect the pupils to acquire a fair knowledge of technique and to realize that it is not sufficient to have "Art for Arts sake," but "Art for life's sake."

During the winter our work is carefully selected.

In the upper grades I plan to continue the work in technique, giving the child a general knowledge of time, accurate reading, chromatics, scales and their construction, signatures and tempo marks. More attention is also given to voice training and the development of pure sweet tones and to ear training. Last but not least we want a large vocabulary of good songs.

In the grammar school we have a fine Girls Glee Club and in the spring we hope to give a cantata. They started work on that last week.

In High School we have new books, also a few new quartet selections.

I wish to thank the teachers for their help and splendid cooperation.

Respectfully submitted,

MARION SHATTUCK,

Music Supervisor.

The library year has again been interrupted by closing orders which were in effect throughout the month of October, this time on account of the influenza epidemic, thus making comparisons with former years valueless.

War library work has continued throughout the year. Few books have been sent this year to soldier libraries but considerable work has been done along the line of patriotism in food conservation. Many government pamphlets, published with the idea of aiding housewives in the use of substitutes, have been distributed, also many posters used urging patriotism and food conservation. A new bulletin board has been made to aid in this work. One feature of the local work was a card catalog of receipts using war substitutes, receipts either originated by patrons or vouched for by them, and this was quite extensively referred to.

Among the additions to the library this year have been many war books which have had a large circulation. Two important sets of books added are:

Grove's Dictionary of Music and Musicians, 5 vol. and Woodrow Wilson's History of the American People, 5 vol. It has been impossible to buy as many books as formerly owing to the increased cost.

Rev. C. F. McIntire has recently been appointed to serve upon the library committee thus filling the vacancy caused by the removal from town of Rev. F. H. Cole.

Five daily and two weekly newspapers are in the reading room, also 6 weekly and 27 monthly magazines. A few of these are gift subscriptions but not as many as before the new government regulations.

The petty cash in the hands of the librarian is as follows:

Balance on hand Feb. 1, 1918,	$34 61

REPORT OF HEALTH OFFICER

The past year has been one, that will long be remembered by many on account of the epidemic that has swept over the world. Our Town has had its quota of cases, and eleven deaths have resulted therefrom, there have been between 300 and 400 cases. It is a disease that is to be dreaded, and we should all take precaution to avoid the breath of any one having it, as leading authorities claim that is the way it passes from one to another.

Of other contagious and infectious diseases we have been free from with the exception of German measles and one case of infantile paralysis. There was only 1 case of measles reported. Your health officer heard in round about ways of a good many other cases.

Now it is the duty of anyone that knows of any cases of contagious diseases to report them and it should be done, so that he may report to the State Board of Health.

The war is over and conditions that were allowed in the past year in regard to keeping hogs, will not be allowed in the coming year, Please keep this in mind.

As soon as Spring opens let us all do our best to clean up around our homes, and to keep clean through the coming summer.

All vaults should be cleaned early and kept clean through the summer months. Keep them closed and dark so that they will not become breeding places for flies.

Remember we all have a duty to perform in the matter of cleanliness for our own benefit and also our neighbors. Do not allow a condition to exist that is an offense to any one.

Remember there is a law against spitting on the sidewalks and in public buildings, this law is being enforced in many places try and avoid the necessity of its being enforced here.

Many visitors to our town remark on its beauties, now I call upon all the inhabitants to try and make its cleanliness equal to its natural beauties.
